1. Ownership assertion

I, Dev Bhakat, assert copyright in the original copyrightable contributions to Kreo that I own or am authorized to license. The public project credit for these contributions is rock-forge. This assertion does not claim ownership of third-party material or another person's independent original work.

2. Permitted use and reserved permissions

The published Kreo Source-Available License 1.0 governs use. It permits normal noncommercial self-hosting and private modifications subject to its conditions. Commercial use, resale and public redistribution of modified versions require rock-forge's explicit prior written permission. Attribution and applicable notices must be preserved. Other redistribution restrictions are set out in that licence.

3. Scope and existing rights

This notice summarizes the identified release's licence; it does not replace it or impose new or retroactive terms. Independently granted third-party rights, platform-specific permissions and applicable statutory exceptions remain unaffected. Any enforcement or removal request must be supported by the facts and applicable law.

4. Authoritative licence

Read the full terms and request permission through the project's maintainers:
